CHAPTER 597

(House Bill 128)

AN ACT concerning

Enterprise Zones

FOR the purpose of excluding certain types of business entities from eligibility to receive the benefits of locating in an enterprise zone; permitting political subdivisions to apply jointly for enterprise zone designation; clarifying the impact of federal enterprise zone designation; changing qualifying income data measurements for prospective zones from that of residents to that of families; clarifying the requirement for a business entity to be eligible for property and income tax credits; requiring that political subdivisions ensure that business entities comply with eligibility requirements; establishing certain criteria for eligibility to receive special property tax credits; changing the definition of base year assessment to prevent firms from receiving cumulative tax credits; defining the economically disadvantaged individual; requiring that a business entity satisfy certain eligibility standards to qualify for income tax credits; requiring that the Department of Human Resources certify that certain employees of enterprise zone businesses are economically disadvantaged for the purpose of the business entity obtaining income tax credits; clarifying that income tax credits will be based upon the taxable year in which wages were paid; making certain stylistic changes; and generally relating to enterprise zones.
